

“Murder in Space”

...a deadly tour around the Sun Solar System!

Featuring
GibsonHouse Mystery Performers
Friday, Jan. 27 • No-host Cocktails begin at 7:00pm.

Mystery Dinner Theatre is interactive and fun...and always in good taste.

Mystery Performance & Gourmet Three Course Dinner...

all for $64 per guest (tax & gratuity included).

Advance Paid Reservations Required. 72 hour cancellation policy.

Evening's Menu

Salad

CAESAR SALAD

ROMAINE, FOCACCIA CROUTONS, PARMESAN CHEESE

Entree

CHICKEN MARSALA*

GRILLED AGED ANGUS TOP SIRLOIN*

GRILLED SALMON*

VEGETARIAN LASAGNE

*SERVED WITH HOUSE PASTA & MIXED VEGETABLES

Dessert

WHITE CHOCOLATE BREAD PUDDING

Bon Appétit !

“Murder in Space”

...a deadly tour around the Sun Solar System!

©2005 James Koponen and GibsonHouse Mystery Performers

Playwright: James Leonard Koponen

(This play is fully protected under all domestic and international copyright laws.)

www.GibsonHouse.com

Welcome to Star Vessel 279: Space Date 2409

(A government Space Fleet Command touring ship)

Enjoy a quick 3-hour tour around the Sun Solar System with quick stops to Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and (if there's time) Venus! But first...meet the crew!

CAPTAIN Al Koholic – a mysterious man—the mystery being how he ever got promoted to Captain. He's an alcoholic at best and a misfit at worst. Abusive of power...but in a friendly way.

SECURITY OFFICER Terric (“S.O.”) –feels a loss of job security and vulnerability after guns were outlawed and rendered obsolete by technological advances. Close to being promoted to Captain himself, he despises any trouble.

DOCTOR Smock – loves his work but feels somewhat missed by the media sensation which spends every second of time covering comet impacts, asteroid collisions, and the latest Planet Starbucks openings. He is certain his luck is going to change having spent the last 12 years dabbling in DNA cloning and regeneration.

SURPRISE GUEST – everyone loves a big surprise, except brides on their wedding days. Be prepared to meet a very famous man from the past.

PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICER Annie Takers (“P.R.O.”) – she's cute. She's naïve. She's fresh out of Galactic Marketing College. Needless to say, the crew wasted no time in hiring her aboard the vessel, or even looking over her application. Her biggest fault is having a crush on the Captain.

AMBASSADOR Ruth Less – ah, the woman everyone loves to...actually, love should never be used in the same sentence with her. She's tough and gritty. If her report gets back to Space Command, the future of the Captain's job—and the whole Star Vessel—is history.

